

Form-a-Cell

Style: Form-A-Cell
Closure: Glued
Die Cut? No
Common Flutes: C/B

A Form-a-Cell box follows the basic structure of an RSC except for its extended flaps, additional flaps and scores. □
The extra score allows the flaps to fold upwards into the carton forming a partition that divides the carton into 4 equal cells. □
These boxes are used in many different industries, from wine and beer bottle boxes to freight shipping of industrial products, □ the form-a-cell is a great alternative to separate partitions.
