

Full Overlap Slotted Container

Style: FOL
Closure: Glued Closure
Die Cut? No
Common Flutes: B / C / BC

The next most common box style is the Full Overlap Slotted Container (FOSC) or just (FOL)
All flaps are the same length from the score to the edge.
Typically, the longer major flaps cover the whole top of the carton and the minor flaps do not.
The manufacturer's joint is most often joined with adhesive but may also be taped or stitched.
The box is shipped flat (knocked down) to the packager who sets up the box, fills it, and closes it for shipment.
Box closure may be by tape, adhesive, staples, strapping, etc.
